BRUSH FUNERAL

Is Attended by Many Baseball and Business Associates Today.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—Many baseball and business associates arrived here today for the funeral of John T. Brush, president of the New York National League club, who died Tuesday on a private car in Missouri while westbound for his health. (The funeral was at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the St. Paul Episcopal church and the burial was at the Crown Hill cemetery here. John McGraw, manager of the New York team, was one of the honorary pall bearers with the presidents of the leagues.

STEEL RAILS

May Be Made Compulsory by an Act of the National Congress Next.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—Upon reports of interstate commerce agents sent to investigate a wreck at Glen Loch, Pa., probably depends the standardization of steel rails by Congress. If the wreck was caused by "transverse fissure" the commission will appeal to Congress to standardize. "Transverse fissure" is said to cause many wrecks undeterminable when the rail is laid, it is declared.

CONFESSION

Of the Murder of Two Boys is Made by Frank Hickey in Full.

BUFFALO, Nov. 29.—J. Frank Hickey today made a full confession of the murder October 12, 1912, of Joseph Joseph's seven-year-old Lackawanna boy, and of Michael Kruck, a New York newsboy, on December 12, 1912. The confession was made to District Attorney Wesley C. Dudley. It was begun on a train that rushed Hickey, Dudley and Police Chief Ray R. Gilson from New York last Wednesday and was completed this morning.

FIRST TRIP

Will Be Taken Over the Short Line Saturday by Mr. Lepley.

A. G. Lepley, efficient foreman of the plant of the Edwards Company at Youngstown, O., the largest of the kind between Cleveland and Pittsburgh, is a guest of his mother, Mrs. Missouri Lepley, of Point Comfort, and other relatives. Mr. Lepley has been with the Youngstown establishment ten years. He will return Saturday over the Short Line railroad by way of Wheeling. It will be his first trip over the Short Line.

MASQUERADE BALL

Sixty couples attended the Big Four masquerade dance Wednesday night in the Lafayette dance hall at Northview. The ladies' prize was awarded to Miss Germaine Demmes, who was costumed as Little Red Riding Hood, and the gentlemen's prize was awarded to Joseph Charles, who represented a Dutchman in wooden shoes. Hall's Cadenza orchestra, of Clarksburg, furnished the music for the affair.

CITY CLERK

And Others Celebrate the Fact That He is Older.

Celebrating the fact that Will H. Cole, city clerk, is one year older than he was last year, an elaborate birthday dinner was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Doyle in Meigs avenue Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The twenty-five pound turkey was roasted by Maria Washington, colored, said to be the best cook in the city. The guests were Mr. Doyle, Mr. Cole and Messrs. William Nussbaum, Harper Rogers, W. C. Morrison, John M. Knox, Jay Reefer, Frank J. Welch and Thomas W. Burke.

And Turks are Surrendering Now to the Troops of Bulgaria.

BELEAGUED CITY

Will Soon Be Taken as Attacking Lines Are Being Drawn Closer.

SOFIA, Nov. 29.—Two divisions of Turkish reserves surrendered today to Bulgarian troops according to an official news agency here.

Lines are being drawn tighter each day about the beleaguered Turkish stronghold of Adrianople. The attackers' trenches are now within 1,100 yards of the city, and foreign consuls display flags on their offices to prevent Bulgarians shelling in their direction.

The losses in sorties and by disease reduced the Turkish Garrison to less than half its strength at the beginning of the siege.

BELGRADE, Nov. 29.—Servian troops today captured Dibra in Albania after a desperate encounter with Turkish troops who rallied there after the retreat from Monastir. All of Macedonia is now subdued. Two Turkish regiments surrendered to Servians yesterday.

FISH WAGON

Turns Over Upon Mr. Burka But He is Promptly Rescued.

M. Burka, president of the Burka Consolidated Fish Wagons Company, had a narrow escape from serious injury or possibly death Friday morning when a fish wagon he was driving struck an obstruction, turned over and pinned him against a post at Holden avenue and Lee street. Harry L. Brooks, police chief; William E. E. Smallwood, who happened to be nearby at the time, rushed to Mr. Burka's rescue. Messrs. E. E. Smallwood and Smallwood turned the wagon upright and released Mr. Burka while the police chief put some fish back into the vehicle. Mr. Burka received only slight bruises.

INSPECTOR

Is to Try to Run Down Post-office Burglars at West Milford.

Edward I. Allen, of Parkersburg, postoffice inspector, will investigate a postoffice robbery at West Milford Wednesday night. The postoffice is located in a store building owned by George W. Sturm and the postmaster is William Lee. The burglars yet unknown gained access through a side door by using a chisel to pry the lock off. They went through drawers and stole stamps, money and merchandise to the amount of $200 or more. Blood hounds from Fairmont the next day failed to take any trail owing to the fact that a yellow powder had been used to prevent a scent.

Harmer, Clarksburg; Judge Raymond Maxwell, Clarksburg; Judge Frank Cox, Morgantown; Boyd Wees, Elkins; Harry F. Fisher, Keyser; R. Chaffee, Elkins; John R. Rines, Rainelle; John J. Hetzel, Martinsburg; E. C. Henshaw, Martinsburg; William B. Mathews, Charleston; George S. Strader, Bluefield; D. B. Smith, Huntington; Judge William C. Campbell, Huntington; and E. C. Engle, Hinton.

DEBUTANTE, BRIDE, WIDOW, MOTHER—AND ALL IN COURSE OF ONE SHORT YEAR

Mrs. Lucien Smith.

In January a gay debutante at the national capital; in February the happy bride of a young West Virginian whose future seemed full of promise; in April a widow, made so by the wreck of the Titanic which took her husband, but spared her; in November a mother—that is what the stars foretold for Miss Eloise Hughes, daughter of Congressman James A. Hughes, of West Virginia, just one year ago. She and young Lucien Smith were married in February, and were on the Titanic returning from their honeymoon trip to Europe when fate took him. Mrs. Smith is now in a Cincinnati hospital awaiting the birth of an heir, an event which will occur this month.

HENRY MINES DEAD AT HIS OHIO HOME

SURPRISE

Is Given Colored Minister and Wife by Queen Esther Society of Church.

Quite a pleasant surprise was planned and carried out by the Queen Esther Aid Society of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church Thanksgiving evening in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Jenkins, it being the seventh anniversary of their marriage. The society met in the lecture room of the church and Mrs. Anna Freeman, president of the society, in a few well chosen remarks, offered congratulations and presented the presents, of which there were many, both useful and ornamental. Mr. W. Comedy was toastmaster. The Rev. and Mrs. Jenkins both responded in a happy manner to the congratulations showered upon them.

Covers were laid for the Rev. and Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. A. Freeman, Mrs. Julia Ruffin, Mrs. Ida Roberts, Mrs. Adda Lowery, Mrs. Tensie Brown, Mrs. Maria Webster, Mrs. Sarah Cambric, Mrs. Kate Wilks, Mrs. Amelia Wilks, Mrs. Anna Henderson, Mrs. Fannie Robinson, Mrs. Jane Sedwick, Mrs. Louisa Dangerfield, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wilson, Miss Beatrice Bowyer, Robert Brent, Campbell Tuck, Mr. Comedy and Mrs. Lottie Tuck.

SCHOOLS

Of Instruction for Election Judges and Clerks in City of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Schools of instruction for election judges and clerks will be conducted by election commissions and county clerk, it is announced, in the hope of obviating at future elections the delay in tabulating the official vote. This act was decided on after numerous complaints of tardy count of the recent election. Official returns were not announced until twenty-one days after first returns. Unfamiliarity with the election law is blamed for the delay.

ACCUSED OF ASSAULT.

James Mason is a prisoner in the county jail awaiting a hearing before a justice of the peace on a charge of assaulting and beating Wilbert Seymour Thursday.

Former Resident of This County Passes Away at Warren, O.

Louis Henry Mines died at his home at Warren, O., at 2 o'clock Friday morning, after an illness of almost a year, most of which time he was partially helpless.

Mr. Mines while on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Moses A. Tichenal, of Adamston, last March was stricken with paralysis near the old burial ground on the Gore farm, in which his grandparents were buried. That dated the beginning of his fatal illness. He remained at his daughter's home and was tenderly cared for until taken home several weeks ago, his desire being to die in his own home.

The deceased man was a son of the late James Madison Mines, who came to Taylor county, this state, from Augusta county, Va., in 1837, and four years later moved to the old stone house on the present Gore farm near Adamston. Louis H. Mines's first wife was Emily Griffin, sister of John T. Griffin, of this city, and his second wife, now living, was Carrie Tichenal, a daughter of the late John Tichenal, of Adamston. Two sons and two daughters were born during the first union—Ray and Warren Mines, of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. M. A. Tichenal and Mrs. Louie Mines, of Adamston. There were several sons and one daughter born to him and his second wife, all living.

Mr. Mines was born in Virginia but most of his life was spent in Harrison county. Until a few years ago, he resided on the Mines farm at Adamston and in addition to farming and extensive cattle raising, he operated a saw and grist mill. He used scientific methods in farming and was well posted on all current questions political, social, educational and religious. In politics he was a Republican and in religion a Baptist.

A man of fine character, his word was as good as his bond, which was gilded. He was 88 years of age. Of Mr. Mines's father's family of two sons and seven daughters only James H. Mines, of Stealey Heights, now remains.

The funeral will be held at Warren Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the burial will be there too.

CANTON TO MEET.

Canton Clarksburg, No. 9, will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Odd Fellows hall on West Main street. All members are asked to bring with them liquor without a state license.

RATE

Schedules by Pipe Line Companies are Ordered Submitted by February 1.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today directed pipe line companies operating interstate traffic to submit schedules of rates and charges for oil transportation by February 1.

The order is directed at the Oklahoma Pipe Line Company, Standard Oil of New Jersey, the Uncle Sam Oil Company of Kansas, the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, the Standard Oil Company, the Ohio Oil, the Tide Water Pipe, Limited, the Producers and Refiners, Limited, the United States Pipe, the Pure Oil, the Pure Oil Pipe Line, and the National Pipe Line.

The commission has already decided these pipe line cases but an appeal is pending in the commerce court, necessitating today's action.

PROF. MOORE

Is to Deliver a Lecture in the Trinity Church, Colored, in This City.

Prof. L. B. Moore, Ph. D., dean of the Teachers' College of Howard University, Washington, D. C. will lecture at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, colored, on Ben street, on the subject "What the Negro Has Done for Himself" tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. Moore is a noted educator, lecturer and minister. This will be a rare treat. All are urged to go and hear Dr. Moore. The admission will be ten cents.

FIVE JAILED

In Default of Paying Fines in the Police Court for Drunkenness.

Several jail sentences were imposed at sessions of the city court held Thursday and Friday mornings by Mayor Frank R. Moore.

At this morning's session, Daniel Murphy, D. Kelley and A. W. Jones were sentenced to serve three days each in default of paying fines for street drunkenness and three other fellows regained their liberty by paying fines for like offenses.

At Thursday morning's session, Frank Graves and Jacob Zellars were sentenced to serve ten days each in jail for street drunkenness in default of paying fines and three others who were convicted of offenses in like kind were released on the payment of the usual fines.

STAFF

Of the Governor in Full Dress Uniform to Attend an Unveiling.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 29.—Governor Glascock has ordered his staff to be present in full dress uniform at the unveiling of a monument erected to the memory of Union soldiers who enlisted in the late Civil war from this state, on the capitol grounds, Tuesday, December 10, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Invitations have also been sent out for a reception to be given by Governor and Mrs. Glascock Tuesday evening, December 10, at 7 o'clock, to which the staff, Governor-elect Hatfield and others have been invited.

SAGGING BRIDGE.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 29.—The coroner's jury holding an inquest on the wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Glen Loch, Pa., returned a verdict that the wreck was due to a sagging bridge.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Bruce Conrad and Carrie E. Wamsley and Herschel B. Ice and Ruby M. Garrett.

TRYING STEVE.

In the criminal court Friday the day was taken up mostly with the trial of Steve Lamont ne, charged with selling liquor without a state license.

POSTAL OFFICIALS IN MEDICAL RAID

Postmaster General Hitchcock and Chief Inspector Robert S. Sharp.

Nearly 200 persons operating in the large cities of the country have been placed under arrest during the past few days, charged with using the mails to solicit criminal money, practice or to dispose of medicine and instruments connected with such practice. The men involved are principally doctors and druggists. The work of apprehending the offenders was aided by the organized staffs of Postmaster General Hitchcock and Chief Inspector Robert S. Sharp.

Charles Gillis, proprietor of peanut and pop corn roasters here, is at Sistersville attending the funeral of his father, George Gillis, run down by a fast mail train Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock near Sistersville.

MR. GILLIS

Father of a Clarksburg Man is Run Down by a Fast Mail Train.

Mr. Gillis had been a short distance above the town looking after some work in connection with a gasoline plant and was returning home, walking down the railroad track when the train struck him.

The unfortunate man's hearing was not good and in addition to this he had a heavy cap pulled well down upon his ears. The train bore down upon him before he had any knowledge of its approach and he was thrown from the track mangled and bleeding.

Mr. Gillis was taken to the Tyler county hospital where it was found that he was in a most serious condition. His legs were both broken and badly crushed. There were several cuts and bruises in addition. He died late Wednesday afternoon without regaining consciousness.

NEW CARS

For the Fairview Line of Street Car Company to Be Purchased.

Smith Hood, general superintendent of the Monongahela Valley Traction Company, and E. C. Bowman, who has charge of the traffic department of the company, went to Philadelphia Thursday to decide upon the type of car to be purchased by the company through the purchasing department.

It is very probable side door entrance cars will be purchased to be used on the Fairview line. If side door entrance cars are put in service on the Fairview line, the cars that are now used on that line will be used in the train service to be established between Fairmont and Clarksburg.

These cars will be delivered about May 1.

SERMON

At Union Thanksgiving Service by Dr. McClelland is One of Great Power.

The union Thanksgiving service at the United Brethren church at Adamston was well attended and proved pleasing and profitable. The sermon by the Rev. Henry T. McClelland, D. D., was strong, clear and of great spiritual depth. The pastor, the Rev. G. S. Hamlet, is to be congratulated upon the success of this, the first interdenominational service. The church decorations were in the national colors, ferns and blooming plants, and revealed a master hand in artistic decorating. Dr. McClelland spoke in part as follows:

"Abounding in Thanksgiving." Col. 3:1. These words are the crown of this contest. As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, rooted and builded up in him, and establish in your faith, even as ye were taught, abounding in Thanksgiving. They who heed the foregoing injunctions are the people to cordially obey our president's Thanksgiving proclamation for the year of our Lord, 1912. For since we have received Christ Jesus the Lord we are necessarily philanthropists, patriots, and the grateful children of God.

"1. As Christian Philanthropists We do thank God today for the intellectual and moral awakening and corresponding quickening of the backward nations with whose destinies our own for dear or for woe appear to be intimately connected. We thank God for the United States of America and for the federated kingdoms of the Balkans. With our thanks we join our humble supplications for peace with righteousness.

"2. As Christian patriots. We thank God for the unsurpassed har-

Carson Wine and Curtis Swiger Have Fierce Fight in a Barn.

Carson Wine and W. Curtis Swiger, young men, had a bloody fight shortly after noon Friday in a barn in the rear of Henry Wine's dwelling on Water street, resulting from which both are under the care of a physician and Swiger is in jail awaiting a hearing before a magistrate on a charge of feloniously stabbing Wine with a penknife.

Wine was stabbed in the back between the shoulder blades and about half an inch of the knife blade was broken off and left in the wound. He also had a little finger nearly cut off. Swiger received two or three severe bruises and lacerations on his head. Policemen took the combatants to the police headquarters, where a doctor pressed their wounds.

From what can be learned the fight resulted from a dispute over a wagon settlement.

Mrs. Ann Wine swore out a felony warrant against Swiger in Justice G. H. Gordon's court and Swiger was sent to jail by the justice to await a hearing.

SPECIAL TERM

Of the County Court is to Be Held Monday for Special Purposes.

A special term of the county court will be held Monday to audit claims for payment, pass on an application of E. H. Bates, administrator of Nicholas Hardman for a reduction of his bond, act on the application of the Clarksburg and Electric Company for a franchise to use certain public highways for pipe line purposes, to grant certificates upon which to apply for notaries public, and to qualify new judges public.

ROAD IS ABANDONED.

Teamsters and others complain that about 200 yards of the Bridgeport road in front of the Jesse Chorpentine farm one-half mile west of Bridgeport is impassable and has had to be abandoned. A stream of water has poured down the middle of the road and has converted it into a dangerous gully.
